Like Divakaruni's much-loved and bestselling short story collection Arranged Marriage, this collection of poetry deals with India and the Indian experience in America, from the adventures of going to a convent school in India run by Irish nuns (Growing up in Darjeeling) to the history of the earliest Indian immigrants in the U.S. (Yuba City Poems). Groups of interlinked poems divided into six sections are peopled by many of the same characters and explore varying themes. Here, Divakaruni is particularly interested in how different art forms can influence and inspire each other. One section, entitled Indian Miniatures, is based on and named after a series of paintings by Francesco Clemente. Another, called Moving Pictures, is based on Indian films, including Mira Nair's "Salaam Bombay" and Satyajit Ray's "Ghare Baire." Photographs by Raghbir Singh inspired the section entitled Rajasthan. The trials and tribulations of growing up and immigration are also considered here and, as with all of Divakaruni's writing, these poems deal with the experience of women and their struggle to find identities for themselves. This collection is touched with the same magic and universal appeal that excited readers of Arranged Marriage. In Leaving Yuba City, Chitra Banerjee Divakaruni proves once again her remarkable literary talents.

'I will not yield. . .' Lakshmbai, the widowed queen of Jhansi, is determined to protect her son's right to his father's throne and safeguard the welfare of her kingdom. Faced with machinations to take over Jhansi, at a time when all of India is rising up against the British, she has to prove her valour and sagacity time and again. But will this be enough to save all that she values? In this gripping novel, award-winning historical novelist Devika Rangachari brings to vivid life the interior life of this nineteenth-century queen, thrust into a position she does not desire but must assume, and of her son, who is cowed by the challenges he has to face but determined to live up to his mother's courage.

There are 26 main tribal societies in Arunachal Pradesh and Tani tribes (Adi, Nysee, Apatani, Galo and Tagin) is one of the most prominent ones. Tani (father), the famed ancestor is made known in the society through popular folk tales. He is depicted as a polygamous, loveless, lustful, vagabond and ruthless rapist. He is one who uses his extraordinary vigour, vitality and wisdom only to acquire women. His image portrayed so far has been very different and squarely down to earth. Yalam not only very brilliantly breaks this myth but also artfully reconstructs a new modified Tani using her skill of storytelling and imaginative deftness. The result of her art is this novel - Jungle Phool. The novel is an extraordinary creation of a creative mind. This work not only presents a historical life-journey of Tani tribes but also its culture and society's authentic internal image. The novel is also successful in portraying some of the traditions, blind beliefs, internal and external fights and customs related to rampant torture of women. It also becomes a mouthpiece for the oppressed and those who wish to live in peace in the now-found society. The writer's progressive humane point of view is aimed at transforming the wide-spread tribal society. In modern literature being written by a small educated intellectual class in India's tribal societies, the novel celebrates the glory of love in numerous forms. There are many powerful feminine characters we cannot live without being influenced by their instinctive naturalness. This bold work proclaims the relationship between men and women as its ideal and has become very readable due to its beautiful and ornate language. The authentic depiction of her society and her revolutionary call for social transformation makes the novel a rare work in the literature being written there. - Vir Bharat Talwar, Jawaharlal Nehru University, CIL (Hindi) SSS & CS, Emeritus For me, the meaning of being 'jungli' or 'wild' is as follows - to be associated with nature; to pace along treating oneself as a part of it; one who could smile in the company of the flowers. One who could hear the call that comes from the innermost chamber of the ocean deep heart and could spread like the golden rays of the sun. One hand touching the sky when the other touching the earth! Germinate and grow even out of a handful of dust found on the top of a rocky hill! Bloom for an instant and die! A wild flower flourishes and smells wonderfully well even in the absence of moonshine and the light of the sun. It blooms in places unfathomable by human eye and beyond our imagination. This is a continuous flow like a river. The courage to stroll and march ahead the newest possible ways and the courage to face fearlessly is the nature of the wild. The forest is never partial. Life is non-aligned there. The flowers that flourish here have their own will and wish. They have neither attachment nor detachment; neither selection nor rejection. Jungle is the name of liberty from all types of bondage and burden. That liberty emanates from ultimate discipline. Though the forest is for all, yet it is not the property of any one. That is why it is jungle, the forest. Tani was the flower of the forest. That is why he was called father. That is why he could experience love. Let me say this way - he declared love. No impediment, no imperative, no fright could stop him. He sprouted again and again in any circumstances. Sprout into flower was his ultimate intent. There was life in his bloom. ...An excerpt from the novel
