Crabbe William Bell - gardemypet.com

Crabbe explains that he is having a hard time putting into words why he ran away from home because he has always been somewhat inarticulate, was always told what to think by his family, and no one at school was ever interested in his feelings. He claims running away from home was the one independent act of his life, so he is not sorry he ran away.

Crabbe Journal 2-Digression Summary & Analysis | SuperSummary

In Crabbe, William Bell tries to prove that running away is not a solution to one's problems. He shows the reader, how a young adult is withdrawn, and not only runs away physically, but also socially. In the physical aspect, he runs away from everyone. He wants to hide in the woods, to stay away from society.
